

Theories Training for Career Development Practitioners

This training meets the requirements for certification by the:

Career Development
Practitioners' Certification Board of Ontario

This course provides an introduction to and overview of some of the major schools of thought in career development and transition theories. It will provide a foundation/framework for practitioners to use when interacting with clients.

Goal of training

To equip practitioners with knowledge of theories that can be applied to many different interventions for clients of all ages and backgrounds.

What you learn

By the end of the course you will be able to:

- Describe some of the main theories of career development, and of transition and change.
- Demonstrate application of theoretical models to actual case studies and integrate components of different theories to one case study.
- Articulate how knowledge of career and transition theories will be relevant and applicable to their work.

What to expect

This course takes place over 2 full days plus some requirements to be completed outside of the training days. Total hours for pre-, post-, and classroom learning will be a minimum of 20 hours. Specific activities will include:

- roughly 4-6 hours of pre-reading materials
- lecture style presentations using PowerPoint presentations
- large and small group discussions
- in-class, multiple choice exam
- post-training case study, written assignment

We have sent dozens of our counselors to this training and are always impressed at how it quickly, and positively, it impacts their work on a day to day basis.

Pricing

Individual Registration

$450

per participant

Open classes are offered quarterly in Toronto and upon request across the province.

Hosted Classes

$4,500

max. 24 participants

Hosted classes are offered upon request, anywhere in the province.

visit www.onestep.ca/training for dates, location, and more information.

